Tag Team of Challengers

Tag team exerted their maximum effort to show up in most of the web service events and show rooms.

From here they started building a great network in the field, especially after the great success of the first project.

A great word of mouth started to spread among the network, and they started to receive calls from different clients with different needs.

That's when they decided that they are in need for hiring new employees to help in developing the new projects.

New developers were hired and they entered the growth phase.

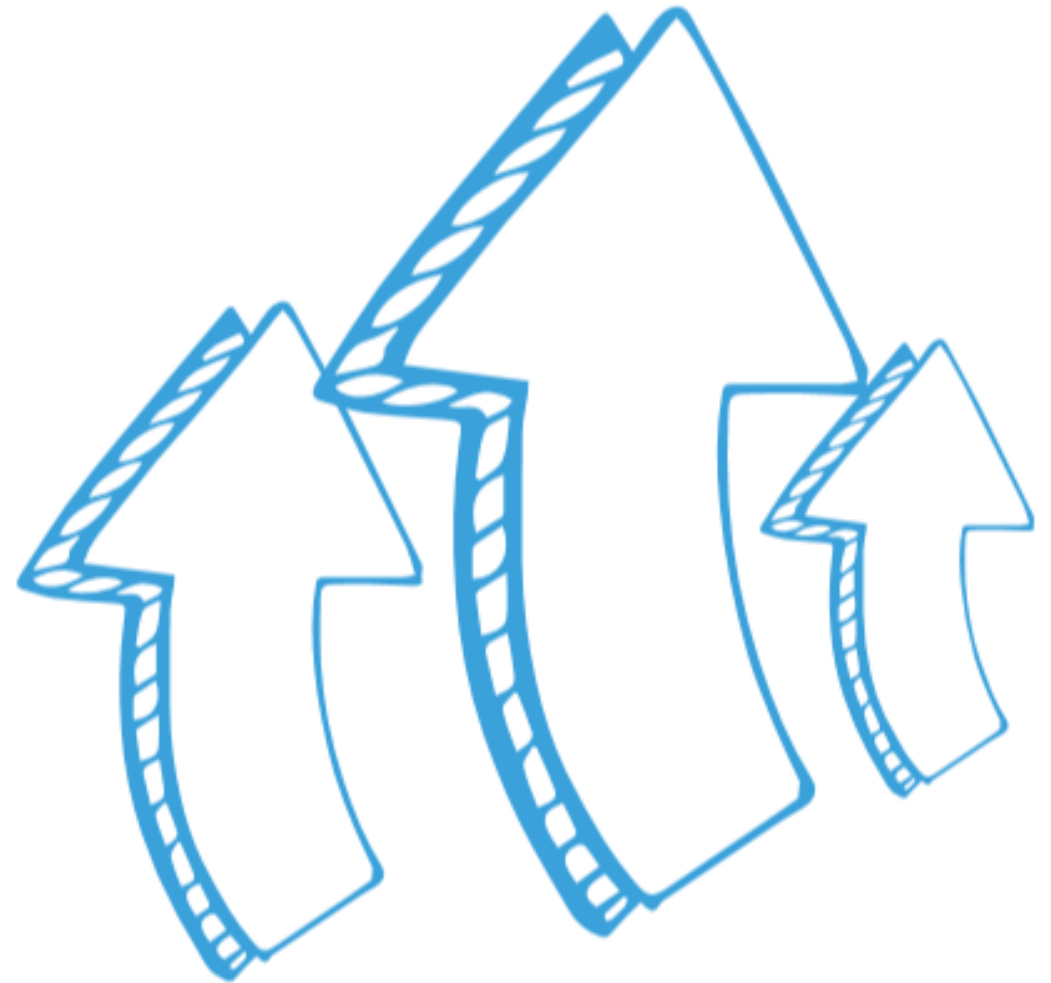

The Hunger for Success

Since the projects increased and the demand over the services increased, a critical decision had to be made, that's when the company was converted from a partnership to a private stock company in Sep. 2020.
